

Stockholm = Green+Urban(design)

With corporate support from:

Date: 19-23 May 2011

Cost: €350/€250 (full rate/member rate)

Registration: aiaeurope.org/stockholm

Education: Up to 18 AIA/CES Learning Units.

Stockholm has transformed radically over the last century from a compact core into a modern metropolitan area. It continues to grow rapidly, grappling with the attendant problems of managing pressures on transportation systems and land development.

This conference will focus on urban design solutions and proposals past, present and future, highlighting the architecture that has enriched and ennobled both city and landscape.

The conference structure combines site visits and short presentations. Lecture themes include transportation solutions for a sustainable future and a vision of Stockholm in 2030. Tours will include the 20th century Stockholm City Library by Gunnar Asplund, central station developments and the redeveloped Slussen district. An optional extension to Uppsala includes visits to a new transportation center and concert hall.

—Conference chair, Peter Jurmala ark SAR/MSA, AIA

AIA Europe conferences are planned for fulfillment of AIA Continuing Education requirements for an entire membership year.

